Hello Mansfield!

I hope that you have all had a great start to the academic year. I am honoured to be acting as the MCR president for the second consecutive year. As the president of such a rich and vibrant community of students, I will make every effort to represent you to the College and make your studies at Mansfield as memorable as possible. Everyone on the MCR bench has worked very hard to organize different events for you throughout the academic year. Please make sure to attend as many events as possible and enjoy them! Additionally, we are currently in the process of elections for open positions on the MCR bench. Please consider nominating yourself for one of the open roles on the bench if you have the time. Being part of the MCR bench is an unforgettable and exciting experience.

Overall, I am always here in case you have any concerns, questions, or comments. Please feel free to contact me by email, or just have a chat with me whenever you see me around the college. I will make sure that your concern is given my fullest attention.

I look forward to a great academic year ahead of us!

Non-Credit Course: Research Training on Counterterrorism Law

The Centre for Human Rights at the University of Pretoria (UP) is elaborating an online repository for national legislation on terrorism and counterterrorism. The research will look at how terrorism is defined and prosecuted in each State, along with sentences. Analysis of the relevant laws will be conducted from a human rights law perspective.

The project will ultimately cover all 197 States (as recognised by the UN Secretary-General) as well as Kosovo and Western Sahara. It will go live with 50 profiles in early November 2022 at https://counterterrorlaw.info. Similar websites managed by the UP Centre for Human Rights concern national laws on police use of force worldwide (https://policinglaw.info) and on the right of assembly worldwide (https://rightofassembly.info). In both of these projects, students at Oxford University conducted valuable research.

Profile of participants

- Research skills: Graduate and undergraduate law students at the University of Oxford; graduate students of other disciplines with a law degree or demonstrated experience in legal human rights research. While some legal background is preferred, it is not essential: an interest in the topic is equally valuable.

- Language skills: Any non-English language skills are valuable, but especially those with skills in Arabic, Chinese, Russian, and Spanish.
The work of the students will be specifically acknowledged and thanked on the website (unless of course anonymity in any case is preferred).

Time schedule

- Any student wishing to assist with country research will be invited to attend a briefing at the Bonavero Institute by Stuart Casey-Maslen, Extraordinary Professor at UP’s Centre for Human Rights, on 28 October, from 3pm to 5pm.
- The students will then be asked to conduct preliminary research on counterterrorism law in a particular State and to submit it by end of day on 18 November.
- A general review and discussion will take place on 21 November, from 3pm to 5pm.
- Following final research, a concluding session will be held on 5 December, from 3pm to 5pm to wrap up the research. Stuart will then upload the results of the research onto the website.

Application

Interested students should send a short email attaching their CV and indicating their interest (either generally or in a particular country or countries) to: bonavero-programmes@law.ox.ac.uk by 20 October. They will be notified of their selection by 24 October.

Book deliveries, Contemporary Fiction collection, accessibility webpage and new book suggestions!

A few reminders from the Library team:

Sally, Clare, and Mark are very happy to deliver books to self-isolating students (or any others who can’t make it to the Library in person due to accessibility issues). These can be for academic studies or something from our Contemporary Fiction collection to offer some light relief.

Please contact us on library@mansfield.ox.ac.uk.

There is more information about our accessibility equipment & procedures, along with recommended self-help & study skills reading, available here.

If you would like to suggest a book for purchase, please use the book suggestion form on our website. Suggestions are always welcome and, if approved, usually available within a day or so.
Mansfield College now has an expanded study skills and well-being section, which includes some lovely cook books, and books on how to adjust to life at university and how to make the most of your studies and research. See the display in the Main Library and come and borrow! Find more online via our webpage.

We have also compiled some links to good websites for low cost, nutritious recipes and advice about meal preparation and planning, ideal for students but also great at this time of rising costs generally.

What is a Junior Dean? The Junior Deans help make sure everyone is able to enjoy their time at Mansfield as fully as possible. Their role includes 'keeping the peace' i.e. making sure you as a community get along well, respect each other, and abide by the College rules. Everyone here has the right to live and study without being negatively impacted by others. The Junior Deans are also responsible for providing pastoral support and helping you navigate other welfare resources as needed.
