Week 6 - Trinity 2022
Pride Month in Oxford

Around the world, people are celebrating LGBTQ+ pride with parades, parties, and other events! Click here to find out about some of the exiting events that are happening in Oxford this month. Remember that Saturday, 4 June is Pride Day and the Pride Parade will begin at noon (meet from 11am at Radcliffe Square, or meet Matthew Bowen, the JCR LGBTQ+ rep, at the porter's lodge at 11.20am).
A Message from the MCBC

Mansfield College Boat Club has had an extremely enjoyable week racing in Summer 8s and celebrating at our annual Summer 8s dinner.

The O1 had four great rows, with two strong row overs (not being bumped but don’t bump anyone), thanks to some sneaky coxing. Having sadly not qualified for Torpids, the O2 came back powerful in Summer 8s. A particular highlight was some very clever coxing down Greenbanks to avoid a bump by Oriel. Due to their qualifying position, the O2 finished the week +2!

The W1 fought hard but ended up with Spoons (having been bumped every day). The crew of 8/9 novices from this year kept their heads up and battled each day with maximum effort, rowing slightly further each day. The W2 qualified with a very strong time but had a tough week. It involved being crashed into before racing even began and a crash so disastrous someone was thrown into the water!

Thank you to everyone who came to support us, especially all the alumni! It was great to see so many Mansfield blazers along the Isis. Keep an eye on Big Legs Mansfield on Instagram for the latest updates!

College Essay Prize

Each year the College awards a prize of £100 for an outstanding essay either written specially for the prize on an approved title, or written as part of University examination requirements. If you would like to enter the College Essay Prize, please send your essay to registrar@mansfield.ox.ac.uk by Friday 1 July (Week 10). Please note that the deadline has been extended from 5th Week to allow those who have had exams and assessments this term more time to enter. The essays will be assessed over the summer and the prize awarded in Michaelmas (finalists still very welcome to enter!).

If you would like to submit an essay for the prize, please email us to have the title approved first. The winning essay will be deposited in the College Library. If you have any questions, please get in touch.
The University of Oxford Counselling Service offers many workshops to improve mental health. Workshops can be interactive, and may be a single session or part of a series. Upcoming workshops include:

- Relaxation – exploring psychological relaxation and basic meditation techniques.
- Persecutory Perfectionism and Imposter Syndrome – an overview of the reasons for imposter syndrome and how to stop destructive habits.
- CBT to Improve Your Mood – an introduction to Cognitive Behavioral Therapy tips to help with low mood and self-criticism (includes two workshops, 'Connecting with your values' and 'Responding to self-criticism').

For a full list of the workshops offered and more information about attending a workshop, including dates and times, click here or contact the Counselling Service at counselling@admin.ox.ac.uk.
Artwork Competition for the cover of the Bonavero Institute Annual Highlights report 2021-22!

The Bonavero Institute of Human Rights publishes an Annual Highlights report setting out the highlights of our year. This year we are holding a competition for the cover of the Annual Highlights report. The theme for the Annual Highlights cover for 2021-2022 is “Human Rights Solidarity”. Entries should be created on paper (using oil, watercolour, pastel, mixed media) and should also be provided as a high resolution (300dpi RGB) A4 landscape format file. An entrant may submit only one entry. Entries should be sent to bonavero-programmes@law.ox.ac.uk and should reach us by Friday 17th June at 12 noon. The competition is open to all Oxford staff members and students who have been registered in the last five years, including students of the M.St./M.Sc. in International Human Rights Law. Click here for more information.
A Message from the Librarians

Book deliveries, Contemporary Fiction collection, accessibility webpage and new book suggestions!

A few reminders from the Library team:

Sally, Clare, and Mark are very happy to deliver books to self-isolating students (or any others who can’t make it to the Library in person due to accessibility issues). These can be for academic studies or something from our Contemporary Fiction collection to offer some light relief.

Please contact us on library@mansfield.ox.ac.uk
Our new series of book displays celebrating significant Mansfield College members is off to a flying start, beginning with Charles H. Dodd. He was a student here from 1908 and, after a short time away, returned to be Yates Lecturer and Yates Professor of New Testament from 1915–1930. There is a selection of his books and pamphlets on display in the Main Library, along with a copy of his biography by Frederick Dillistone giving more information about this renowned biblical scholar, and more personal material in the archive, available on request to library staff.
There is more information about our accessibility equipment & procedures, along with recommended self-help & study skills reading, available here: https://www.mansfield.ox.ac.uk/assistive-equipment-procedures-and-recommended-self-help-study-skills-reading

If you would like to suggest a book for purchase, please use the book suggestion form on our website: https://www.mansfield.ox.ac.uk/form/book-suggestion-form Suggestions are always welcome and, if approved, usually available within a day or so.

Thank you,
Clare, Sally, and Mark
OxFOS 2022 recordings with transcription are now available.

As promised we have transcribed the recordings for the sessions and they are now permanently available on our website here:
https://openaccess.ox.ac.uk/oxfos-22/

You will need an Oxford single sign on (SSO) for access.

In order to ensure up-to-date reporting the linked recording to the UKRI policy briefing is the most up-to-date April 2022 recording, not the session held at OxFOS. Due to the nature of the workshop there is no recording for the Carpentries taster session. The transcription for Open scholarship infrastructures and sustainability is forthcoming.

See the full list of recordings available on the Open Access Oxford website!
Open Scholarship at Oxford

Questions about Open Scholarship and Open Access? Head over to the newly updated Open Access Oxford website to find out all you need to know about Act on Acceptance, ORCIDs, Rights Retention, funder policies, DOIs, the REF, Creative Commons and much more. The FAQs page is particularly helpful and informative, and there is now a really useful flowchart which covers all aspects of publishing open access articles at the University of Oxford which you can download from ORA here: Publishing open access articles at the University of Oxford. It is a digital object with interactive links, with a list of those links at the end.

There are also changes happening at Research Data Oxford so check their website for information about research data management issues and updates.

Free Speech vs. Equal Speech in the Era of Cancel Culture

Teresa M. Bejan is Professor of Political Theory and a Fellow of Oriel College at the University of Oxford whose research brings historical perspectives to bear on questions in contemporary political theory. She has written extensively on themes of free speech, civility, tolerance and equality in historical contexts ranging from ancient Athens to 20th-century analytic political philosophy. Her first book, Mere Civility: Disagreement and the Limits of Toleration (2017), examined contemporary calls for civility in light of 17th-century debates about religious toleration. Her forthcoming book explores the fascinating but forgotten history of equality before modern egalitarianism, due out in 2023 from Harvard University Press. I

Professor Bejan will speak on “Free Speech vs. Equal Speech”

Temi Ogunye is the Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellow in Politics at Nuffield College at the University of Oxford. His research interests include social and political philosophy; social justice (domestic and global); authority and obligation; and activism and resistance. He has published articles on the personal and political dimensions of the right of necessity, and on global justice and transnational civil disobedience.

Dr. Ogunye’s remarks will focus on “Social norms and informal activism: On the efficacy of ‘cancel culture.’”

IF YOU LITTER BY THROWING, POURING OR SPRAYING FOOD OR OTHER MATERIALS, YOU WILL BE LIABLE TO A £150 FINE.

EXAMS: CELEBRATE SUSTAINABLY
Exams: Celebrate sustainably and avoid a fine

We want you to celebrate after your exams, particularly after the challenges of the last two years and there are lots of way you can celebrate your achievements. Have a night out, enjoy Oxford’s green spaces (leaving them as you found them) and celebrate with your Mansfield community, all by being respectful to everyone. However, if you litter by throwing, pouring or spraying substances after your exams, you will be liable to a £150 fine, which will be strictly enforced this year. Protect the environment, save money, and respect our community.
