Britain and Germany in Europe: What Prospects?

Seminar organised by the Adam von Trott Memorial Appeal

Rhodes House, Oxford, Thursday 7 November 2013

Adam von Trott (1909 – 1944) studied as a lawyer at Göttingen and came to Oxford to study at Mansfield College in 1929 and at Balliol College as a Rhodes Scholar in 1931-33

11.00 First session
Chair: Anthony Tucker (Convenor of Adam von Trott Memorial Appeal, Mansfield College)
Speaker: David Hannay (Lord Hannay of Chiswick, former British Ambassador to the EU and to the UN, Member of the EU Select Committee of the House of Lords)
Respondent: David Marquand (Professor of Politics, former Principal of Mansfield College, former Trustee of the Aspen Institute, Berlin).
12.15 Discussion
12.45 Lunch

14.00 Second session
Chair: Christine Dalby (Representation of the European Commission, London)
Speaker: Dr Rudolf Adam (Minister and Chargé d’Affaires, German Embassy, London)
Respondent: Paul Betts (Professor of Modern European History, University of Oxford)
14.45 Discussion
15.15 Tea/coffee

15.30 Third session
Chair: Keith Jenkins (former Associate General Secretary, Conference of European Churches)
Speaker: Kalypso Nicolaïdis (Professor of International Relations, University of Oxford)
Respondent: Hartmut Mayer (Fellow of St. Peter’s College, Oxford)
16.15 Discussion followed by closing remarks
17.00 Seminar ends

Related events
17.00 Pilgrimage on foot to see Adam von Trott’s papers in Balliol College Archives at St Cross Church, and the memorials to him in Mansfield College & Balliol College
18.45 Service in Balliol College Chapel in commemoration of Adam von Trott.

Thanks are due to the Representation of the European Commission, London, for contributing to the cost of this seminar