An opportunity to write your name in history
Putting your name or the name of a loved one on a lecture auditorium seat in our transformational new building is a wonderful way to show your support.

This will be Mansfield’s first purpose-built lecture auditorium. It will enable us to hold a range of activities such as lectures, drama performances, music recitals, film showings and law moots.

The lecture auditorium, which will have 160 seats, will be a fantastic new space for College. Designed by our architects, Rick Mather, it will have glazing to bring in natural light with an opening to a newly created terrace.

The new building will have a significant impact on student life, providing 74 en-suite study bedrooms, which represents a 75% increase in Mansfield’s on-site accommodation.

It will also be an inspirational home to The Bonavero Institute of Human Rights, which has been created in partnership with the Faculty of Law.

The building will create a steady state income of £500,000 per annum, which will support further investment in and improvements to our College.

A lecture seat can be named and will feature a plaque with a name of your choice

A lecture seat could be your way to mark your time in College, remember a loved one or to celebrate a special event.

Please contact us to discuss other ways of supporting the project and naming opportunities.
“Mansfield College has always produced great actors who are involved in the drama society across the University. It will be amazing to have a multi-functional performance space within college to help promote this even further!”
