The Oxford academic year runs from October to June, comprising three eight-week terms. We heavily prioritise full year applications for study but on a case by case basis will consider a small number of applications for two terms of study starting in January 2019 and ending in June 2019. Visiting Student Programme fees are listed below:

Deposit. An acceptance deposit of US$400 (non-returnable if you do not take up your place) is payable immediately upon your acceptance of your place at Mansfield College. If you are applying as an independent applicant (i.e. you are paying your accommodation and course fees directly to Mansfield) you will also need to pay a non-refundable 10% deposit by the 31st July 2018. If your home College or University is paying your deposit on your behalf, please indicate that this is the case when you provide the College with written confirmation that you accept your offer of study. Upon your arrival at Mansfield College, this sum will be carried forward as a security deposit and at the end of term this deposit will be returned minus any monies owing on your Battels account.

The following is included in your fees:

(a) Tuition and College dues
Tutorial arrangements and teaching provision; advisor supervision; access to Mansfield College, Faculty and Bodleian libraries; attendance at University lectures; membership of Junior Common Room; access to College sports facilities and other societies; provision of transcript.

(b) Accommodation
Provision of a furnished single room beginning in the third week of September 2018 (or the first week of January 2019 for students studying for two terms) and ending in the third week of June 2019, including furniture, bed linens, access to a shared kitchen, wi-fi and/or Ethernet internet connection, and utilities. The College will specify entry and departure dates when an offer to study is made. Visiting students may stay in their accommodation over the breaks between terms free of charge. If students wish to extend their housing contract then this may be arranged with the Accommodation Manager for an additional charge, but room availability outside of the programme dates cannot be guaranteed. Please note that the College does not provide landline telephone service; students are advised to purchase a mobile phone with an international calling plan.

All College accommodation is self-catering, but Visiting Students may use the College Dining Hall, where meal costs are subsidised.

Billing (‘Battels’). Invoices for the fees will be sent directly from Mansfield to you (if you are paying your fees directly) or your home College or University (if they are paying fees on your behalf). Tutorials and courses of study can only be entered into if the full fees have been paid on receipt of our invoice.

Once you are here, you will have an account with the College called your battels account. Meals you take and any other charges such as for printing will be added to your battels, and a statement of account will be available for you to access online. Prompt settlement is required. Please note that no transcript will be issued until all outstanding debts have been settled.

Payment may be made by one of the following methods:

- By credit transfer to the College’s bank:
  HSBC plc (40-35-34)
  65 Cornmarket Street, Oxford

  Payment to be credited to:
  Mansfield College, Oxford
  Account no. 30559083

- By credit or debit card (except AMEX).

- By cheque, made out to ‘Mansfield College, Oxford’ and sent to the Accountant at the Accounts Department at the College. Payments in currencies other than Sterling, including dollar cheques, will be credited to the student’s account at the exchange rate applied by the College’s bankers at the time the cheque is cleared. Any charges made by the bank for negotiating a foreign currency payment will be added to the student’s account. Any deficit must be made good immediately upon the student’s arrival.
